CORRESPONDENCE

A letter was received from W. J. B. Burgess & Co. of Toronto, asking information re. current by-law.

Sgt. Major Jack Oliver wrote from Northridge, acknowledging soldier's certificate from City Council, and stating he was greatly pleased with same.

C. H. Burgess & Co. of Toronto, made an offer to exchange $13,750 six per cent. bills payable in Canada, and maturing $1,000 in each of the years 1920 to 1925 inclusive, and $2,000 in each of the years 1926 to 1929 inclusive, at 95 and interest.

Latimer & Bottrell made certain offers to clear up taxes on South Red Deer subdivision.

The G.W.V.A. wrote asking the City to assist in defraying a deficit of some sixty-four dollars, which the soldiers' reception committee reported existed.

The city auditors reported the books in order to October 31st.

Ald. Collinson and Broughton moved that a resolution be made to the soldiers' reception committee. Carried.

J. F. Boyce tendered his resignation as a member of the Red Deer Library Board.

E. S. Hogg and H. K. Byers were present, and addressed the Council on behalf of the new Postway, and the Soldiers' Association of Red Deer, asking the Council to make a grant to the Association of $50 towards the general expenses of the new Postway.

In carrying out their first annual show, the 16th and 17th of December.

W. J. Bottrell and F. Turnbull, delegates from the Board of Trade, addressed the Council, asking that a sum of one hundred dollars be set aside in the estimates next year to wards putting Red Deer on the map of roads for travel prepared for principally automobile travel.

While Red Deer would be on the map even if we did not subscribe, yet we would be featured in moving pictures and many other ways if we made the grant. At most every other place had contributed towards the idea.

No action taken.

A grant of $50 was made to the Red Deer Poultry and Pet Stock Association, on motion of Ald. Simpson and Collinson.

Ald. Simpson and Stone moved that the offer of C. H. Burgess & Co. to exchange $13,750 treasury notes, bearing 6 per cent. interest, and maturing $1,000 in each of the years 1920 to 1925 inclusive, and $2,000 in each of the years 1926 to 1929 inclusive, be accepted. Carried.

The guardians of the estate of John Forrester, the Royal Trust Co., offered a cheque of $288.61, being amount of city's claim for unpaid taxes on lots 1 and 2, block 42, plan K2, Red Deer.

The Council accepted the offer and passed a by-law to that effect.

Ald. Collinson and Simpson moved that the offer of Latimer & Bottrell be accepted. Carried.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT.

The Council, City of Red Deer, Gentlemen:

We submit our regular report as follows:

1. We have given what material and assistance we could to assist in building the open air rink. It is now in the open air for ice.

2. The date for holding the Court of Revision on the 1920 assessment must be fixed at this meeting.

3. The annual revenue report has been called for Friday, 28th inst.

4. We are sending out reminder notices for unpaid taxes and hope to make a good collection before the end of the year.

5. We are arranging for Fire Chief Taylor to make an inspection of all premises for fire prevention purposes.

Provincial Sanitary Inspector Butcher made a sanitary inspection of the city's short time ago, and will be here again in a few days. He will, no doubt, submit a report of conditions.

The sewers were flushed before freeze-up and some sidewalks repaired. The walks and streets will be kept in as good condition as possible during the winter. Foreman Jones did not get as much repair work done before freeze-up as we planned and the heavy snowfall has delayed this.

6. The annual reports are in the hands of the printers and will have them ready before the annual meeting.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

W. B. LORD,

A. T. STEPHENSON,

Commissioners.

"A NAUTICAL KNOT"

A number of young people of the city have been busily engaged during the past few weeks in preparing a bright and useful opera to be presented, "A Nautical Knot," for presentation, and the dates have been fixed for Tuesday and Wednesday, December 23-24, 1919, in the Lyceum Theatre.

The choruses are bright and tuneful, the solos of a wide variety, giving splendid opportunity to the vocal artists in the use of their talents.

J. W. Hoy is very kindly assisting in the staging of the piece, and those who know of Mr. Hoy's efforts in the past along theatrical lines, will be sure of the success of this end of the production.

The first meeting of the literary society in the Valley Centre, D. was held Wednesday, November 13th, and was well attended. A lively program was prepared by the school children, with the assistance of a solo by Mrs. Nelson Stringer, and a violin solo by Mr. Paul Bolze. The children were very successful with their debate. A selection by Christie Reay, readings by Frances Clarke, Robert Kaiser, and E. Bolze were also included in the program. The paper was read by Mr. W. Reay. Mr. Fred W. Moore acted as chairman of the evening. The following officers were elected: chairman, Mr. W. Reay; secretary, Mr. T. Moore; editor of paper, Mr. Smith; program committee, Mrs. M. Reay, Mrs. N. Stringer, Miss M. Hunt. After the program, games were enjoyed by all, for an hour or so.

The friends of Mr. P. C. Clarke are looking for his speedy recovery.

Saturday afternoon, November 29th, the Methodist Ladies' Aid will hold their Christmas bazaar in the church parlour. Come and see the fine show of children's clothes, dolls, aprons, handkerchiefs, towels, and fancy work of all kinds. Ten cent tea will be served during the afternoon, and the proceeds will be for the benefit of the children's fund. Come and bring your friends.

Economy of Ford Service

WEAR is unavoidable even in the best car, but certain parts wear out more quickly than others. There is no need of scrapping your car because the piston rings have seen their day, because the platinum points of the vibrators are worn out. Probably the rest of the car is as good as new.

Medical men agree that the human body is renewed, cell by cell, every seven years. You can do the same with your Ford Car and prolong its life at minimum cost by replacing worn parts from time to time.

Ford service has been the means of doubling the lives of hundreds of Ford Cars, and cutting down the cost of motoring. The fact that a Ford Touring Car, which costs $690, f. o. b. Ford, Ont., can be purchased part by part separately for $917 is ample proof of the economy of driving a Ford Car.

It will pay you to have your car overhauled during the winter months. 700 Canadian Dealers and over 2,000 Service Garages supply genuine Ford parts and prompt repair service.

When buying, choose a Ford, and take advantage of the economy of Ford service.

VETS. DECIDE TO AMEND THE CONSTITUTION

Soldier Organization in Greater Winnipeg Prepare to Enter Political Field.

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—Composed of members of all returned soldier organizations of Greater Winnipeg, a gathering of over 4,000 veterans decided this evening to amend the constitution of the several veterans' associations and to be ready at any moment to enter the political field, either in municipal, provincial or federal affairs.

Major G. W. Andrews, M.P., first addressed the gathering on the gratuity question and his attitude during the recent session of the federal house. At the conclusion of his speech he was tendered an ovation. The burden of his address was that it was wise for him to withdraw his now famous gratuity amendment and thus give the returned men time to talk over the matter and express themselves before the government meets in February; also it prevented the G.W.V.A. from getting a black eye, the government from being "whitewashed," and the wily politicians from seeing that the matter was not made a dead issue.

HANDS TIED
Captain J. W. Wilton, M.P.P., who moved the resolution which gives the returned men the right to enter political fields, was also tendered an ovation. He said that at the present time they were in the position of the man with his hands tied and must take a leaf out of the farmers' book by removing the shackles and getting organized ready for political action. The value of this he had been reflected in the Ontario elections and he was sure the farmers would have control of the country after the next federal election. It might pay the veterans to fall right in behind the farmers, but in any event they should be ready to enter the political field. He agreed that they should get the men among them who know something of finance, of farming, of manufacturing, and of every other line of activity, and formulate a platform of which they could be justly proud and which would commend itself to right-thinking people. R. E. Bray, one of the strike leaders now on trial, had a hard time, and finally was forced to quit the platform, after telling his audience that he had not been to France and proceeding to sharply criticize members of the G.W.V.A. executive.

SELF GOVERNMENT FOR EGYPT PLAN OF GREAT BRITAIN

Will Preserve Autonomy Under Protection, Says Allenby.

Cairo, Saturday, November 15.—Field Marshal Viscount Allenby, British high commissioner in Egypt, has issued the following statement:

"The policy of Great Britain in Egypt is to preserve the autonomy of the country under British protection and develop a system of self-government under an Egyptian ruler. The object of Great Britain is to defend Egypt against all external dangers or the interference of any foreign power, and at the same time establish a constitutional system, in which—under British guidance so far as is necessary—the sultan and his ministers and the elected representatives of the people may in their several spheres increasingly co-operate in the management of Egyptian affairs.

"His Majesty's government has decided to send a mission to Egypt to work out the details of a constitution to carry out this object, and, in consultation with the sultan, his ministers and the Egyptian representatives, to undertake the preliminary work requisite before the future form of government can be settled.

"It is not the function of the mission to impose a constitution on Egypt. Its duty is to explore the ground and discuss with the authorities on the spot the reforms necessary and proper, and it is hoped, in complete agreement with the sultan and his ministers, a scheme of government which can subsequently be put into force."

FARMERS RESUME THEIR PLOWING IN SOUTH ALBERTA.

Calgary, November 20.—That the Chinook of the last week has driven the frost out of the ground in Southern Alberta to such an extent that the farmers had resumed plowing, was the news brought back from that section last night by George Lann, who visited High River, Cayley, Stavely, and Macleod this week.

"The snow is all gone, the ice is going out of the Old Man River and the cattle are grazing, or at least, they are doing their best to graze, considering the grass situation," said Mr. Lann.

STATOIN AGENT FORCED TO QUIT

"All the Boys At This End of the Line Talking About My Recovery," He Says.

"When the boys come by and see me back on the job looking like my old self, they always holler at me to know what has brought about the wonderful change, and I always about back, 'Tanlac,'" said A. E. Rawley, the popular telegraph operator at Wolford Station on the Canadian Pacific railroad, and living at Westfield Beach, New Brunswick, in relating his remarkable experience with the medicine, recently.

"My recovery had not only surprised me," continued Mr. Rawley, "but all the boys on this end of the line are talking about it. Pulling through what I have suffered back into health and strength seems more like work of a miracle than of medicine, for I had despaired of living much longer."

"My health suddenly gave way four years ago following a severe attack of grippe, which settled in my stomach. My food would sour, causing gas, and such a pressure through my chest that I could scarcely breathe. Sharp pains would suddenly strike me in the chest, keeping me in agony for hours, and at night I would have to get up and walk the floor to keep from smothering. One day, about a year after my trouble started, I began vomiting, and kept it up almost incessantly for four days, and I thought sure my life would end there. I had to be carried to a hospital for treatment after which I felt in fair condition for a few weeks and then another attack came on me with great pains in my stomach and intestines which would last for hours."

"At first, these spells came about once a month, then twice a month, and then every week, and got me down to where I just couldn't work at all. In fact, I lost fifty pounds in weight, and had to give up my position as station agent and do nothing but try to find relief. Then I went to another hospital for treatment, then another, making three in all, and tried every medicine I knew of, or was suggested to me, but kept getting worse. I had no idea I could live much longer, and, of course, had little hope of ever getting any better."

"My case was like that of the drowning man, reaching out for a straw—desperate—and although I had no faith in Tanlac to help me, when I saw it advertised I grabbed at it as my last resort. I had tried three hospitals, and everything in the way of medicines, so I couldn't have much faith in Tanlac, but, it's a fact, before my first bottle was gone I noticed a difference in my feelings. It was not long then until the gas stopped forming on my stomach, I had a good appetite, and could eat most anything without it hurting me. Now, to put it all in as few words as possible, I have taken eight bottles of Tanlac, and am not only feeling fine, but I have got back twenty pounds of my lost weight. I am now working regularly every day and am still picking up both in weight and strength right along. I attribute my recovery to nothing but Tanlac. To me it is the most wonderful medicine in the world and I will praise it as long as I live."

Tanlac is sold in Red Deer by Gaetz-Cornett Drug & Book Co., in Stettin by the Calgary Pharmacy, Ltd., in Elkville by Elkville Drug Co., in Veteran by Veteran Drug Store, in Delburne by E. J. Hodge, and in Hesper by Macdonnell Bros.

TESTING SEEDS FOR FARMERS AND MERCHANTS

The Dominion Seed Branch, with laboratories at Ottawa, Winnipeg and Calgary, reported over 35,000 seed tests for the year ending June 30th. The growth of seed testing in Canada is indicated from the fact that only 5,776 samples were reported in 1909. The great bulk of the work in our seed laboratories is done between September and June when each laboratory may handle up to 200 samples per day. Only ten samples are tested free of charge for any farmer or seed merchant during the season. Over this number, the service is charged for at cost.

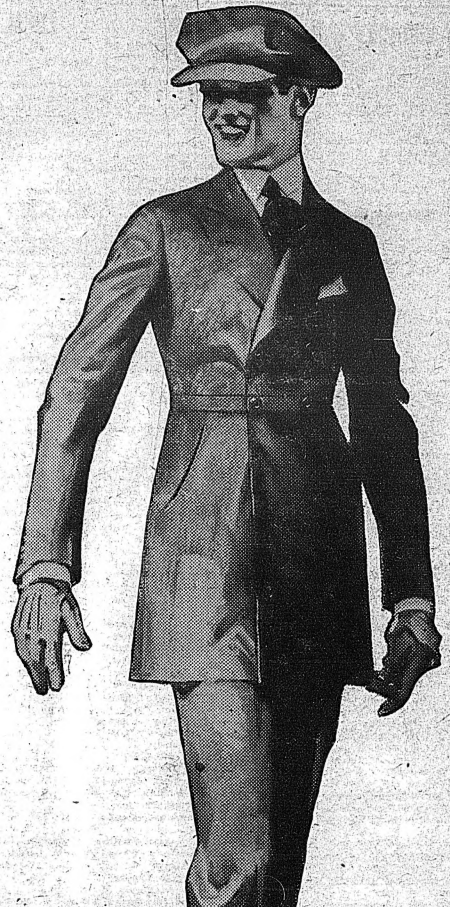

Official seed testing is the basis of government seed control, which in older European countries is rated as leading government service to agriculture. Any country without an efficient system of seed control soon becomes the dumping ground for inferior seeds from foreign countries, and low-grade home grown seeds may be sold to unsuspecting farmers. Our system is frequently referred to in other countries as being the most practical and efficient. Its importance is now being better appreciated when it is required that imported seeds are not released from bond until they are approved at the seed laboratories, and when cereal grains, flax, corn, as well as clover and grass seeds, are marketed on the basis of fixed quality seed grain standards.

BRITAIN CANNOT CONTINUE TO KEEP AUSTRIA ENTIRELY

London, November 20.—Premier Lloyd George, replying to questions in the house today, said he saw no hope of amelioration in the economic situation of Vienna without the help of the United States. The British had already given aid to the Vienna government amounting to three and one-half million pounds sterling, but the premier announced that Great Britain did not intend to continue to bear the greater part of the burden of the famine in that country.

SAYS STERLING TO DROP TO FOUR DOLLAR MARK

Vancouver, November 20.—That sterling exchange will drop to $4 and will remain at that point for many years and win for Great Britain a tariff wall, is the statement of Morcon Frowen, the noted British economist, who arrived in Vancouver last night.

"Exchange will drop to $4 and we will have $4 exchange for five and twenty years," declared Mr. Frowen. "Only by raising all false props from the financial standing of a country can it reach a basis on which to build a solid monetary edifice."

"The natural fall of sterling is the only thing which will gradually build up the industrial life of the British Empire and restore it to its pre-war position."

PROVED IT.

"And you call yourself a lover of peace," said Mr. Raftery.
"I do," answered Mr. Dylan.
"After intentionally dropping the brick on Casey."
"Yes, have you ever known Casey to be so peaceful as he was just after I dropped that brick?"

CRRER ADVOCATES
DIRECT TAXATION

ASKS FARMERS TO CONCENTRATE ON FEDERAL POLITICS.

Brandon, Man., Nov. 18. - Advocacy of direct taxation to make up any loss in revenue occasioned by removing the customs tariff from the necessities of life, an increase of the income tax, and federal adoption of the inheritance tax, was advocated today by Hon. T. A. Cramer at a meeting called by the grain growers for the purpose of educating Brandon people in the political platform of the Canadian council of agriculture.

Hon. Mr. Cramer made a plea that the farmers concentrate on Dominion politics for one year at least, as it is there that the things that concern them most lie, such as questions of revenue, immigration, transportation, and conditions of development.

The Canadian Council of Agriculture has formulated a platform which contains the best of political principles before the Canadian people today," said Mr. Cramer, after explaining that the farmers, having the leisure, pondered matters and are making a valuable contribution to the life of the nation.

The responsibility for mis-government in the past is entirely due to the lack of interest taken in public affairs by the electorate.

NOT CLASSIC DIVISIONS
The Canadian platform before the war was $230,000,000, and now, since the successful flotation of the new Victory loan, is over two billions, for $2,000,000,000.

There must now be raised annually for federal government purposes $325,000,000, where before the war $149,000,000 was required annually.

Some of the expenditures must be maintained or increased, such as those for men broken in mind or body during the war, and because of a "foul" railway policy ten to twenty millions must be raised annually.

The national policy announced in 1879, the protective tariff, stands today with few changes. In an agricultural country a protective tariff is a barrier to development. Is it wise or sane to add to the expense of the nation necessary to production? The farmer under present conditions must buy implements in a restricted market because it is a protected market, and sell his output in open competition with the world. It is not the way to develop an agricultural country.

GREATEST POSSIBLE CURSE
The policy of protection is the greatest curse, and drawback we could have in Canada. In Ontario, the finest agricultural province in Canada, it has driven people off the land into the cities.

The protected industries in Canada have been one of the greatest sources for the corruption of government this country has had, because it paid them to have protection, and they paid the price.

Elections cannot be run without expenses, and the Hon. Mr. Cramer expects Assiniboia, where the electors put their hands into their pockets and subscribed the funds.

There are many calls on the purse of a member of parliament, and if representatives have to buy the support of the people, you cannot blame them if they call you out when they get into office.

"If a man digs up two dollars for an election fund he will be a better citizen therefore."

The protective tariff has bred corruption in government. The Canada Cement company was held up to a horrible example of a combine loaded with watered stock, the earning power of which is capitalized, a form of dishonesty roundly condemned, and said to be possible because of the growing tendency of the people to get something for nothing.

Planks in the platform of the Canadian council of agriculture that were commended were the proposal to take off the tariff duties on farm implements, food, etc.; a reduction of the tax on overvalued land; a direct taxation and income and inheritance taxes, publication of sources of campaign funds, and proportional representation.

FOUND NOT GUILTY OF ATTEMPTING TO KILL HIRED MAN.
Winnipeg, November 20. - Rather an unusual ending came to a charge of attempted murder in the assize court today. John Lennox, a farmer near Stonewall, Man., and a former member of the R.N.W.M.P., faced the court on an allegation of shooting with attempt to kill his hired man, J. J. Ward. Lennox told his story of the connections of the hired man with his wife so appealingly, and pleaded the unwritten law so well, that he was found not guilty. Judge Galt told him he was glad they had returned this verdict and discharged the twelve who went into the hall and shook hands with the accused warmly sympathized with him, saying they were glad to have the opportunity of being able to set him free without a stain on his character.LOST OPPORTUNITY.
"My first patient called on me today," said the young doctor. "He's rich, too."

"Congratulations!" replied the elderly doctor. "What was the matter with him?"

"Nothing. I couldn't find a thing wrong with him."

"Ah, my boy, you still have a great deal to learn about your profession."

PROVINCIAL MARKETS

Examiner's Review, Calgary, November 21.
Cattle

Cattle are piling into the Calgary yards at a tremendous rate during this past couple of days, but luckily there are a good number of cars on hand for shipments and there has not been any congestion so far. The market was weakening a little, though it had been strong all week on all classes of good beef. The sales today would indicate a reduction of about 25c on fat stuff with the best steers from $9.00 to $10.25; good butchers $8 to $9. Some good cows yesterday made $8.25, but there is a weaker tone and the choice ones may be quoted from $7.00 to $8.00; good butchers $6 to $7; medium $5.25 to $6 and the common cows from $5 downward, with a lot of the thin ones making from $4.25 to $5. Calgary is a poor market with the tops at $7.50. Bulls are lower, with good ones at $5.50. Stockers are about at last week's prices, but the demand for heavy feeders is poor locally and the prices on broadly looking stuff is from $7.75 down.

Edmonton market has been active all week and the car situation has been more satisfactory with heavy shipments of cattle for slaughter to the American markets and Canadian packers.

Hogs
Last week end the hog market closed at $16.75 and the few cars which have been made during the week have been holding near that mark with the sales yesterday also at $16.75. There was nothing like a good run on hogs but there were a few more on hand today than usual and they sold at $16.75.Sheep
Not many sheep have been sold during the week. One nice lot of lambs made $11.75, but that was about two bits over the market.

Buyers for any but the heavy teams are very scarce and the market sales during the week have been poorly attended.

Grain
There have not been any features in the grain markets during the week. There has been a somewhat more favorable weather, which has permitted threshing to resume in some parts.Produce
Milk prices have been set for the winter months in the Calgary district at $3.50; Edmonton producers are to receive a price of $3.75 for an indefinite period. Dairy butter is advanced, with straight receipts from 44 to 46c, and the fancy tables graded up to 52c. Creamery butter unchanged and the inquiry good. Potatoes are on the market more slowly, and market is weaker, though in most cases prices are unchanged, except No. 2 chickens which are down to around 15 and 16c. Dress poultry is firm and prices on turkeys quote from 32 to 37c; ducks are in good condition and prices from 22 to 25c. Potatoes very scarce and prices are around $45 at country points, but the movement still light. Other vegetables are also advanced. Eggs are scarce and bring from 65 to 70c.Hay
Prices on hay bought by the dealers at country points are unchanged. The few cars quoted lower and some sheaves are worth from $15 to $20. Car situation is greatly improved, though some Alberta points could use more.Furs
Coyote prices are down this week, following lower quotations from the London sales. Best furs are worth up to $17 and the small size $8.50. Bear skins will also probably go lower.Hides
Last week's advanced price is maintained, but the market is weak and a break is looked for any time.WETASKIWIN MAY

Debtors Holders Held Preliminary Meeting in Toronto On Wednesday.

A. E. Nash, secretary of the commission appointed by the provincial government to investigate the condition of municipalities in financial distress, is on his way to Toronto, where he will meet the creditors of the town of Wetaskiwin and discuss what is to be done with the town's indebtedness.

Debtors holders concerned in the Wetaskiwin civic account met in Toronto Wednesday, according to a dispatch now to hand from the east, and the meeting adjourned until next week, when Mr. Nash will be on the ground for a further discussion with the bondholders. It is expected that out of this later meeting some policy will be developed whereby the town may be relieved of its immediate difficulties.

The government's commission was asked by the civic authorities of Wetaskiwin to give them advice in the matter, and it is in response to this application that the financial affairs of the neighboring town were investigated a short time ago. The Toronto bondholders will now talk things over from their point of view.

Chief Justice Harvey, Justice Hyman, and H. M. E. Evans, comprise the commission, Mr. Evans taking the place of Justice Beck, who was originally appointed by the government but resigned on account of ill health.

THE TORTURES OF RHEUMATISM

Happily Stopped When He Began To Take "Fruit-a-lives"

8 Ottawa St., Hazel, P. Q.
"For a year I suffered with Rheumatism, being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine without relief and thought I would never be able to walk again. One day while lying in bed, I read about 'Fruit-a-lives', the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.
The first box helped me, and I was able to get up regularly until every trace of the Rheumatism left me." LORENZO LEDUC.

WANTS CREDITOR TO PRODUCE PROOF OF ASSERTIONS

Mail and Empire Asks Him to Back Up Protection Speech.

Toronto, November 20.—The Mail and Empire editorially today replies to the statements of Hon. T. A. C. Grant at Brandon on "protection." The editorial says:

"Mr. Grant says that in Ontario, the finest agricultural province in Canada, protection has driven people off the land into the cities. Then was it protection that drove the people off the land in Britain into the cities? Was it protection that drove them in hundreds of thousands every year out of the United Kingdom to find work and opportunity in countries that have protection?"

"Was it protection that drove young farmers from Ontario to settle in the west, where 'near himself' is flourishing?"

MUST BACK UP STATEMENT.
"Public men who make speeches are expected to satisfy the intelligence of their hearers. Anybody can say that protection is a curse, but it is another thing to establish the proposition. There is a strong advocate of free trade, and therefore has no use for protection.
"A public man ought to feel bound to produce convincing evidence in support of such strong statements. There was no protection in England to account for the drift of population from the rural districts to the towns, a drift as pronounced as ever it was here. The movement of people from Ontario farms to farms in the provinces was as decided in its time as the movement from Ontario farms to Ontario towns. How could the one be attributed to protection and the other not, the tariff being fairly constant."

THE VAMPIRE OF MR. DART

"And all that rouge and those eyebrows and that pair of black earrings—say, girls, I don't see how Theda Bara holds her job at all."

"And do you know?" interposed Miss Penttress, of the cost department, "she doesn't hold it a chimney? Mrs. Dean just missed catching her with a cigarette in the rest room yesterday."

"And how the men hang around her desk—have you noticed it?" This from Miss Brady, the office cashier.

"Even Mr. Dart, I passed his desk this morning; she had finished dictation and was sitting there talking. Heard her say, if you're fond of regular music you ought to hear two new rolls I have for your piano. They're so jazzy they just make your toes tickle. And say, the big drought hasn't hit our house yet, why don't you come over some night?" And Mr. Dart laughed and said he would be there, "with bells on."

"Get that, Elsie?" called Clara Forest, of the billing department. "You'd better look after your Mr. Dart, or the new 'stenos' will be running with him."

Elsie Hastings bit her lip and colored to the tips of her pink ears.

"Really, girls, Mr. Dart and I are only good friends. He is free to do as he chooses."

Bravely enough pretty little Elsie said it, but there had been a cruel tugging at her heart as she watched the office vampire's bold overtures towards Phil Dart. Quite true, the status of Elsie and Phil had been only that of good friends, but Phil had been coming to see her every week for the last six months.

Only this week he had gotten the promotion for which he had been looking forward with more than the usual amount of happiness to Friday night. Then came Mayne Dobsony, and things changed.

How could Elsie attribute to anything but this Phil Dart's apparent abstraction that morning when he had dined to her? Certainly his mind had been far away, for he had fidgeted and revolved and repeated himself for a long time to his usual contentment manner.

"Some regular fellow, that Dart person," which Mayne Dobsony stopped and perched languidly on the corner of Elsie's desk.

The noon whistle had sounded, but Elsie was hesitating to finish a bit of work before going to the lunch room. It was like a sudden challenge—this direct mention of Phil's name. Elsie felt herself color. She wanted to look Mayne squarely in the face and answer indifferently. Instead she heard herself stammering:

"Yes, Mr. Dart is nice."

"I'll say he is. You know," and Mayne smiled down at the other in a patronizing way, "I don't see why some of you girls don't go after him. But I'll take real class to get him. I think I could learn to like him pretty much myself."

The color in the other girl's face heightened quickly. "I don't think Mr. Dart is the sort who would care to have women go after him."

The new stenographer laughed mockingly. "Pshaw, you don't know much about men. They are all alike. They like to be vamped."

And Mayne Dobsony slipped down from her seat and moved toward the lunch room with a superior and worldly-wise air that set Elsie to pounding the keys of her machine furiously.

Could it be that Phil Dart was like that? Before Friday night Elsie felt sure that he was. Moreover, deep in her heart she evaded a plan—a plan to beat this flashy rival at her own game.

During the few days Mayne had been in the office Elsie had studied her carefully. She had made note of her slangy talk, her rapid mannerisms.

As a first step Elsie called at the store where she had just bought a simple little evening gown. Thinking it too extreme at the neck, she ordered alterations. This alteration she carried off. Next she went up to the top floor.

Here, to the jangling of a thin-tongued piano, young Mayne sang into a megaphone, improvised from a sheet music, proclaimed in syncopated measures:

Just take it from me,
You can't shunmy all night
On a cup of tea.

This musical gem and others of a like nature she bought and when she left the store she had also acquired a lip stick and eye pencil, and, to these, she added a package of cigarettes.

"Come right in, Phil," Elsie gushed as she met him at the door. "I have got some of the sweetest new music you'll just love it to death."

Perplexed, Phil followed into the parlor, to encounter the smell of smoke. Elsie's brother had followed instructions. The room reeked of them. Deliberately Elsie took a half-smoked cigarette from off the key-board and tossed it into the fire, slipping the partly used package into the bodice of her dress.

Violaciously she ran through the music, dispersing the interludes with strong thanks, to, and on to her brother's coaching. On, and so she prattled, but Phil Dart's usual quiet mood became ominous. Suddenly he darted across the room, and laid the other woman—the real vampire—his hand on her forehead. She had fainted. Oh, the bitterness of it—to lose him to such a woman. Oh, the awfulness of her trying to hold him in this shameless manner—and still falling.

She could not help it; her face went down into her hands.

"Elsie, you are crying," he was at her side.

Sobbingly, she blurted out the whole thing.

"Why, you dear silly, little goose," he said quite softly, "don't you know man don't love women of the type? They do attract us—just as a poster printed in red ink attracts you. But you wouldn't choose the poster to bring home and hang on our wall, would you?"

"Now please go up and wash that paint off your face and come right back, because there is something I wanted to say—and I just can't say it to a painted lady."

Elsie did go upstairs. She came back with a silk scarf thrown about her shoulders and her face all pink with the glow of health.

And Phil delivered his little speech. It was a pretty speech, too. And why shouldn't it be? Hadn't he been thinking about it all week, and about nothing much else? It had to do with this speech—with the month of June, and it touched on the housing problem, and it discussed the relative joys to be derived from a trip to the coast lakes as compared with one to Washington and down the Potomac. In all her life Elsie had never heard such a speech—no, never.

"Isn't it just too wonderful!" In the white quietness of her bed she whispered this question to a ring held close to her cool cheek. And from its point of vantage—three feet nearer, left hand—a solitary white diamond, caught a vagrant moonbeam, and in the marvelous heliography of love flared back the answer: "Wonderful, wonderful, wonderful."

BRUMPTON & GAETZ Ltd.

Doesn't it beat all the way things happen? When that cold weather was on, we were watching daily for some felt boots that had been on order since last April, and they just managed to reach here as the weather changed. But we thought we would mention it now in hope that you would remember when it turns cold again that we have some of the cutest little felt boots that you have ever seen in little felt sizes which run from 3 to 7. They come in Tan Felt with Tan leather foxing and also in Red felt with White soles. Don't forget us when you need these warm boots for the little ones.

Another long delayed and almost despaired of line is Boys' Reefers. They, too, have just come to hand. They are made of a Dark Heavy Canadian Cloth with a warm cosy finish and are lined with light checked Tweed. They have lots of weight and are more acceptable to the boys than long overcoats, for we never yet saw a boy that wouldn't prefer a good reefer to a cumbersome overcoat. When we were unpacking them a boy friend, who was looking on, said: "They're jake," and we can't say more than that. In sizes up to 30, they sell for $11.50; and sizes 31, 32 and 33, sell for $12.50.
